

A large, dark, abstract sculpture with a circular opening, set against a background of a textured, light-colored wall. The sculpture is positioned in the center of the frame, and its dark color contrasts sharply with the lighter, textured background. The circular opening is a prominent feature of the sculpture, and the overall composition is balanced and visually striking.

Création et espaces